PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

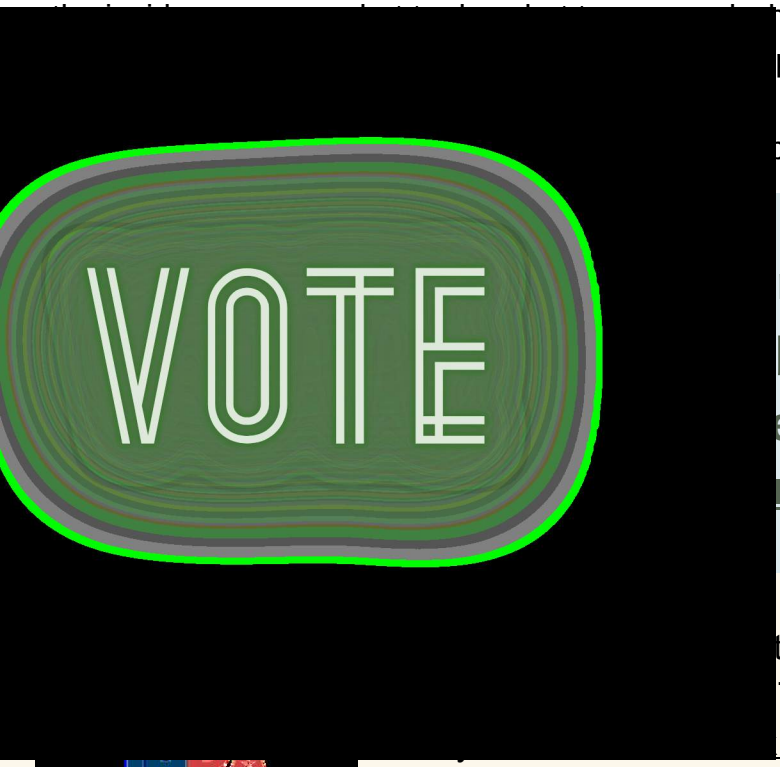

Levi Snyder
Monogram Homes

II would like to take a moment to thank the members of the North Idaho Builders Political Action Committee for conducting such informative interviews. Your insightful questions and thoughtful deliberations helped us narrow down our choices, and we're grateful for your time and expertise. Importantly, I would like to thank our members for showing up and casting their votes. Your participation is critical to the election process and the fulfillment of our civic duty as members of our community and we are thrilled by the engagement and support.

I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to the Gone Wild committee for making our recent event a raging success. Their hard work, energy, and attention to detail insures that this is an event you never want to miss. From coordinating vendors and managing logistics to developing an engaging program, the committee showed professionalism, commitment, and enthusiasm. Without their efforts, this event would not have been possible, and for that, we are truly grateful. So once again, thank you to the Gone Wild committee for all that you have done, and we look forward to next year.

Are you planning on attending the International Builders Showcase in Las Vegas but feeling a bit unsure about what to expect or how to make the most of your time there? Join us on November 15th at 4pm at Mulligans at CDA Best Western for an informative and engaging event where past attendees will give you [illegible]hat to expect at this exciting annual event. Spike Appreciation

NIBCA SPIKE CLUB

Thank You!

We are incredibly grateful for all the support that we receive from our Spike members. These members truly go above and beyond in their dedication to growing our association. In particular, we want to acknowledge the effort put forth to bring in new members. Every new member that is brought into the NIBCA community is a step closer to achieving our goal of growth and success. We recognize and appreciate the spike points that each member earns for recruiting new faces, and we are honored to have such passionate and dedicated individuals on our team. Thank you for your continued support in helping us create a strong and vibrant community.

Which Will Give First: Inflation or Housing Market Resilience?

NAHB Eye on the Economy, by Dr. Robert Dietz

The relative resilience of the housing market in the face of multidecade highs for mortgage interest rates has surprised economists outside the real estate sector. However, builders, remodelers and other stakeholders in the residential construction sector know that the limited resale inventory and the supply-side constraints that have hampered building activity over the last decade mean that, even amid reduced housing demand resulting from elevated interest rates, the home building industry continues to be resilient.

Existing single-family home sales fell 2% to a 3.96 million rate in September. Because of a lack of inventory, this pace was 15% lower than a year ago, with just a 3.4-month supply on the market. To the surprise of many, pricing is up 2.8% from a year ago in the face of the worst housing affordability conditions in more than 20 years.

The resale market's limits have, in turn, supported demand for new construction. With about one-third of overall housing inventory comprised of new construction (compared to about a 12% historical average), new home sales increased more than 12% in September to a 759,000 annualized rate. This pace is up almost 34% from a year ago, despite mortgage rates well above 7%. Price and other sales incentives have helped maintain buyer interest, with the national median price of new single-family homes down 12% compared to a year ago to just under $419,000. High interest rates also boosted the cash share for new home sales during the third quarter to 9% of transactions. For many builders, this share is considerably higher given housing affordability conditions.... Click here to read more

NIBCA has a Political Liaison who attends city council meetings and generates a monthly report. Log into the Member Portal to see the report in the Resources Tab

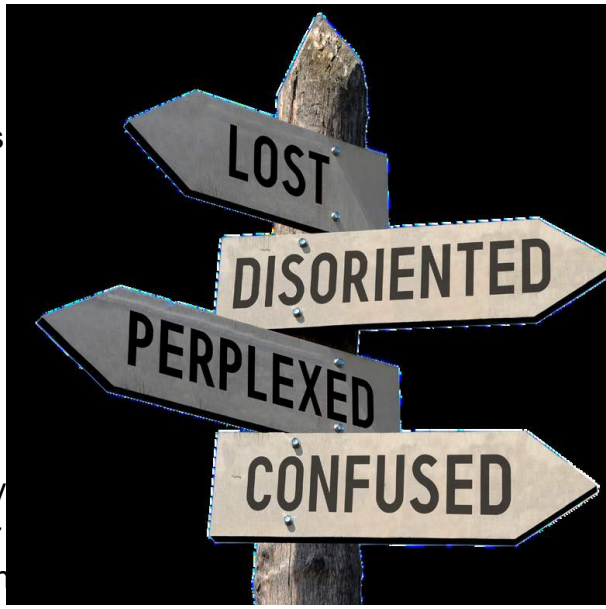

DID YOU KNOW as a Member of IHBA you have access to legal help?

For IHBA members facing legal issues, the Legal Defense Fund (LDF) can be an invaluable resource. With the LDF, members have access to expert advice and, in some cases, funding to help defray the expenses of litigation. But perhaps the most important thing to remember is to get the LDF involved early on. The sooner the LDF is involved, the better positioned members are to navigate any legal challenges they may face. With the support and guidance of the LDF, members can focus on what they do best: building and growing their businesses. So don't wait – if you find yourself facing legal issues, reach out to the LDF as soon as possible and let them help guide you through the process.

Got your Expo Pass for IBS? Now What?

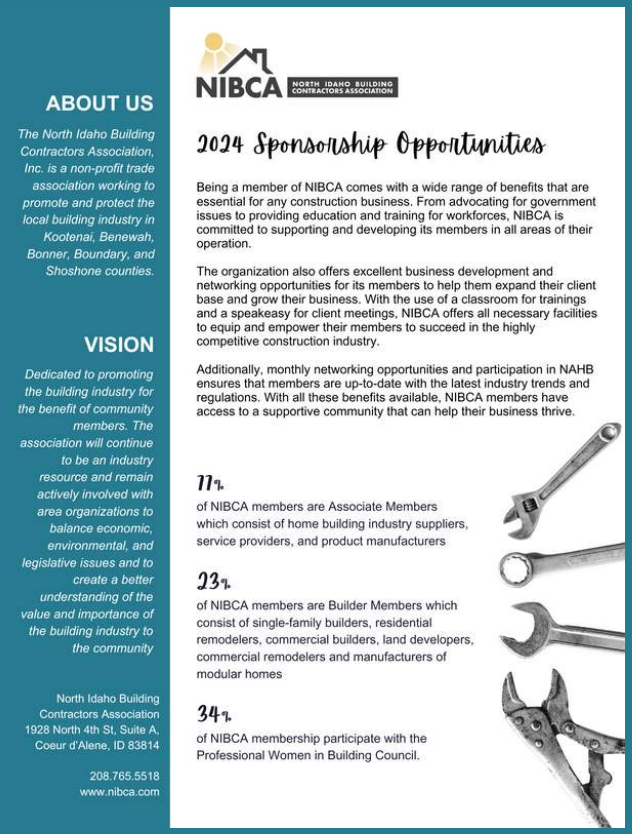

The International Builders' Show is an exciting event that offers a million square feet of showroom space, three days of national meetings and education, and three days of open floor for attendees to explore.

What's more, the Idaho Party promises to be a highlight of the show, perfect for networking and making new connections. If you've been considering attending IBS, now is the perfect time to make it happen.

We're excited to help you get the most out of your trip, which is why we're matching up interested attendees with mentors who can offer and insight on making the most of their experience. Join us at our in informational meeting and discover everything IBS has to offer.

NIBCA EDUCATION COMMITTEE

Stefani Hoffman
Lake Creek Comfort

After a quick recovery from a very successful Pet Parade of Homes program, the Education Committee jumped in to Careers in Construction Month! We started the month with several members visiting North Idaho STEM Academy in Rathdrum, to introduce 8th Grade Career Exploration students to several professions and career paths in the building trades. Mike Bell visited our Student Chapter construction students at KTEC to get to know them and check out their progress on the dog houses they are building for a raffle to support scholarships. At our November visit we will be drawing names of a senior student from each class, to award them a set of tool bags and tools in gratitude for building the dog houses.

We welcomed Mission43 for their Project Management Professional Certification course. Mission43 provides servicemen, women, and military spouses opportunities to succeed in Idaho after the military, through education, employment, and engagement.

The October GMM featured speakers involved in local Building Trades Education. If you would like to know more about how you can help students build careers in our industry, through apprenticeships, please call the office for contact information.

On Saturday, October 21, we welcomed 21 students in Grades K-8 for Careers in Construction Day! Students planned, designed, and built a community and all the buildings and homes needed! We had everything from the NIBCA building to a Fire Department, School, Bank, Karate Dojo, and Giraffe Petting Zoo, and so much more. Housing included a farm and single family homes in many shapes and sizes.

We wrapped up the month with another visit it North Idaho STEM where members discussed careers in real estate, marketing, and web design.

November will be busy too with a monthly visit to KTEC and a plan day for 2024. Don‘t miss out on all the great ways to give back to our community. Join the Education Committee!

Associate Members, October we celebrated Careers in Construction Month and again, we are so grateful for all our Associate members who work alongside the Builders to make the dream of homeownership a reality.

During coffee talk we focused heavily on one of the Five Stages of Membership: Savings. Remember that as a member of the National Home Builders Association, through the exclusive discounts from a variety of leading companies, you and your company can save money. According to NAHB members saved an estimated total of $37 million in 2022. Also, remember to check the What's up Wednesday emails for local discounts through associate members.

Please join us at Coffee Talk on November 16th from 7:45-8:30 at NIBCA where we will be discussing the newly approved healthcare plans that are currently being offered to members, what companies qualify for a start date of January 1st! While it is not a stage of membership (yet) it is a huge accomplishment for the Idaho Home Builders Association and NIBCA that we have up to 6 Blue Cross Blue Shield of Idaho plans that brokers are offering. Please be sure to look for more information on this from the NIBCA office or learn more during coffee talk held on the 3rd Thursday of each month.

Associates Committee Gone Wild was November 1st Thank you to all the committee, volunteers, and members who joined us in making this event a success! The wrap up Meeting –TBD 4:00-5:00 at NIBCA Office.
I hope everyone had a fabulous start to fall. I am extremely thankful to represent the associate members and hope to continue to do so in 2024! Happy Thanksgiving to you and your families.

Want to be a vendor?

It's that time again and the Home and Garden Show Committee is busy with planning for the 2024 shows. We're accepting vendor applications, so be sure to get yours in soon! Participating in the Home and Garden Show is a great way to stay updated on the latest trends in the home and garden industry. You'll have access to new innovations, products, and expert advice from industry professionals. This is a great opportunity to find out what's new in the industry, as well as network with other homeowners and gardeners who may have useful tips for improving your own home or garden. Additionally, participating in the show allows you to explore potential new projects and plans for your home or garden.

Join the Committee!

If you're looking a place to get connected in NIBCA, this might be the committee for you! Joining the home and garden show committee is a great opportunity to get involved in your local community. You can meet people with similar interests and help plan the event, as well as gain valuable insight on the latest trends in home improvement and gardening. Additionally, you will have the chance to showcase your own skills and experience by contributing ideas or volunteering at the event. Furthermore, you will be able to make a real difference in your local area by helping bring together industry experts for an exciting two-day event that brings together the best of what home and garden have to offer.
